Location: Biosciences Research Collaborative, RICE
6100 Main St., Houston, TX 77005-1892, USA

Dear Colleague,

We are pleased to announce TIRR Memorial Hermann will be hosting The International Symposium on Wearable Robotics (WeRob 2019). The symposium will be hosted October 16-18, 2019, at the Biosciences Research Collaborative in the Texas Medical Center, Houston, Texas, USA.

In 2017, WeRob was an exciting event with over 200 attendees representing 22 nations 80 poster presentations, 20 exhibitors, panel discussions, small group break outs, along with networking and social events. WeRob 2019 will be held for the second time in Houston, Texas, USA.

Through the sponsorship of TIRR Memorial Hermann, the conference will be held in October in the Texas Medical Center, the largest medical center in the world. In the 2019 edition, WeRob will not only highlight applications in rehabilitation, but will also expand the role of wearable robots in promoting healthy aging and safety in the workplace. There will be interactive workshops with engineers, clinicians and end users to promote collaboration among different disciplines, and a product theater demonstrating the latest in wearable exoskeletons and robots. WeRob 2019 will showcase the expertise of international speakers from academia, government, industry, and rehabilitation centers, as well as the experience and feedback of end users of robotic devices.

We invite you to participate in WeRob 2019 as a supporter and/or exhibitor. Information regarding supporter opportunities is attached to this email. If you have any questions, please contact symposium planning member, Kirk Roden, at 713.500.7035 or by email: Kirk.S.Roden@uth.tmc.edu.

For further inquiries, please contact symposium organizer, Patricia Tully, by phone: 713.797.7378 or email: patricia.tully@memorialhermann.org. Thank you in advance for your consideration. We look forward to hearing from you!
